THE 69TH LEGISLATIVE SESSION ROUNDUP

BOB BISKUPIAK | IIAMT DIRECTOR OF GOVERNMENT AND TECHNICAL AFFAIRS

Each legislative session has its own pace and “flavor” and the 2025 session is no exception. When the session began the House was ready to get to work, however, the Senate was full of drama. The Senate was embroiled in controversy from day one, severing the chance of a smooth session. Allegations of multiple ethics violations echoed thru the halls of the Capitol.

These distractions led to a rush of bills prior to the transmittal date. But then again, this happens every session. This session has seen a plethora of social laws tested. Medicare Expansion was renewed after rigorous debates from both sides of the aisle. The remaining bills will continue thru the process; however, the remaining major bills include property tax and income tax relief. HB 2, the state budget bill, is a priority bill at this point.
